EDITOR'S NOTES: Short this month, for comments on the Memphis paper money show, check out my report on the SHOW.

OUR COVER THIS MONTH: This previously unreported note surfaced, where else, at the issuing bank, as part of the #1 sheet. It is one of 117 $20 notes printed. Where are the rest? Probably in currency heaven, as Type 2 Nationals were issued at the height of the Great Depression and most were issued for payroll, spent and re-spent to buy food and other basic necessities. John Hickman tells me that the Type 2 $5 is the scarcest as they were spent more readily than the larger bills, which would buy a lot of groceries in the 30's.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

August is the month for vacations and is our slowest month of the year for Numismatics. The ANA Show was the last week of July and was a big success; due in part to the big increase in gold and silver bullion prices. Gold was at $404 per ounce on July 30 while the ANA was going on, and it was felt that the breaking of the $400 barrier would boost other numismatic prices.

A $50 per ounce climb in gold bullion prices has a tendency to open a lot of speculative eyeballs. Now, however, at this writing, gold prices have backed off to the $375 range. Still, this has been the first big move in bullion prices in the past 2-3 years, so it's anybody's guess as to what is going to happen in the future. I just know that these price fluctuations in gold bullion are not going to effect the collector, especially those of us interested in paper money. Most of the big investors are on the outside looking in and we don't have many left in paper money--this is a real collector oriented field, which really helps stabilize prices.

We have some real big shows coming up here in the near future. MSNS at Dearborn, Nov. 26-28 of 1993. Then the MSNS spring show, followed by the big ANA show in Detroit in the summer of 1994. This will be the largest show of the decade for the state of Michigan and everybody should try to get there for this one, as it's a real education to see all that high powered numismatic material.

Following the ANA in the summer of '94 will be the 1994 MSNS show in Dearborn in November. PMCM will be co-hosting that show and we need lots of helpers, so try to be there and devote some time at the registration desk or as a door attendant, etc.

Exhibits are educational for everyone, including those of us that assemble them, as it takes a lot of additional research to put an exhibit together.

Thus, a proposal has been made that the best in show in U.S. and Foreign Paper Money at the Detroit ANA receive a substantial currency prize and a plaque which would be sponsored by PMCM (and maybe SPMC).

PMCM member # 2119, Robert D. Hatfield has offered to pay ANA club dues for 1994, making the club an ANA club for the Detroit ANA show. This would show our support for ANA as a club. I believe it is a good idea and we will bring it up for a vote at this fall's meeting of PMCM at the Michigan State Show.

I have not added any new notes to my collection in the last three months--since I acquired 3 Pontiac obsoletes in May. New acquisitions are very elusive, but that's what keeps this hobby interesting--the constant chase. Keep on hunting and enjoy that trail that it takes you on.

Regards,
Dr. Wallace Lee, President, PMCM

50 YEARS AGO IN NUMISMATICS

As reported in Numismatic Scrapbooks of July-September, 1943: Volume 1, #1 issue of the "Numismatic Review", a scientific digest pertaining to coins, medals and paper money is now available--single copies can be had at Stack's--subscription $4 per year, soon to be $7.

Humor in Coins--A member of a Scots regiment was being decorated for gallantry. "This soldier," said the officer presenting the medal, "stood his ground in the face of overwhelming numbers. Armed with a tommy-gun he stood up to the enemy and refused to retreat an inch." "Must have had his foot on that sixpence I lost," muttered one of the hero's pals.

Word had it in the July issue that a local Chicago dealer picked up an uncrirculated roll of 1912D nickels at .08 each.

The .20 cent piece was featured in an article on "The shortest U.S. Coin Series".

James Kelly of Dayton, Ohio offered a full page of U.S. Pattern proofs. Prices ranged from $5 to a high of $50 for an 1870 A.W. Pattern dollar in silver.

Henry Grunthal of NY had a full page ad on rare Southern colonial currency. A South Carolina 10 pound note, 4/7/70, signed by Charles Cotesworth Pinckney, a famous general of the Revolution who ran against Thomas Jefferson in 1801 was offered at $20, while a Virginia 200 pound note 5/7/81, torn in half and mounted was $7.50.

The second edition of the "Bluebook" was available from dealers at .50 cents.

Hy Brown offered Fractional Currency in a 1/2 page ad..a 2nd issue .50 cents #24a (Wyate Raymond numbers) in C.U...$3.50.

"Allied Military Currency" in "liras" was reported in use in Sicily in the August Scrapbook. The article described the secrecy under which the notes were made after planning with the Department of State and the British government. Printing began in early June of 1943 in anticipation of the invasion of Sicily. A companion article described earlier (8th century B.C.) invasions of Sicily and the Italian peninsula, with illustrations of the coins of the Greek invaders.

Bebbee Stamp and Coin Co. of Chicago, Ill. offered a

C.U. $1 Educational note for $5.

Arlie Slabaugh of Oakland, MD had a 2 page paper money ad in the Sept. Scrapbook. Among his offerings was the "rarest" Confederate note, a $500 1861 written date, rural scene with cattle in the brook, #104 of 607 issued; uncirculated (with a few creases) for $80. "It will be worth more soon."

A.R. Davis - Garland, Texas Banker...by Frank Clark,
PMCM #2104

Allen Ripley Davis was born on 11/1/1876 at Woodland Mills, Tennessee in Obion County. He was the tenth of eleven children and the family lived on a farm. His father was known as "Cap" Davis and he owned a grain business and flour mill. He was also active in state and local politics.

A.R. Davis attended Business College in Bowling Green, Kentucky after he finished his local schooling. He concentrated his college studies in bookkeeping and English composition. He was an eloquent speaker and writer.

In 1901 he was working in Indian Territory with a thrashing crew. He read an advertisement for a worker in a General Store in Garland, Texas. He called the store owner long distance and was told there were already 200 applicants. A.R. told the store owner he was coming anyway, and got the job! He was paid $30 a month for working 15 hours a day. Later, he went to work for Sam Hall's Drug Store and bought a half interest in the Drug Store.

In 1904 he married Bertha McCree of Malden, Missouri. They had two sons. R. McCree Davis was born in 1905 and Allen Ripley Davis Jr. was born in 1911.

In 1906 the National Bank of Garland was started in the front part of Sam Hall's Drug Store. At this time there were three banks serving Garland and the surrounding area. A.R. was Teller, Cashier, bookkeeper and janitor for the bank. He also worked in the Drug Store in his spare time! After six months the bank moved to a new location at the Northwest corner of the Town Square. In 1913 the bank moved to the southwest corner of the square. The bank also changed it's name to the State National Bank of Garland. In 1956 the bank changed it's name again to the First National Bank in Garland. At that time the bank also moved to it's present location at Glenbrook and Avenue A. Davis retired in 1965 at the age of 89. He had been Bank President for forty years and Chairman of the Board for ten years. During his career the Bank's capital increased from $50,000 to $27,000,000. His son R.M. Davis succeeded him as President of the Bank.

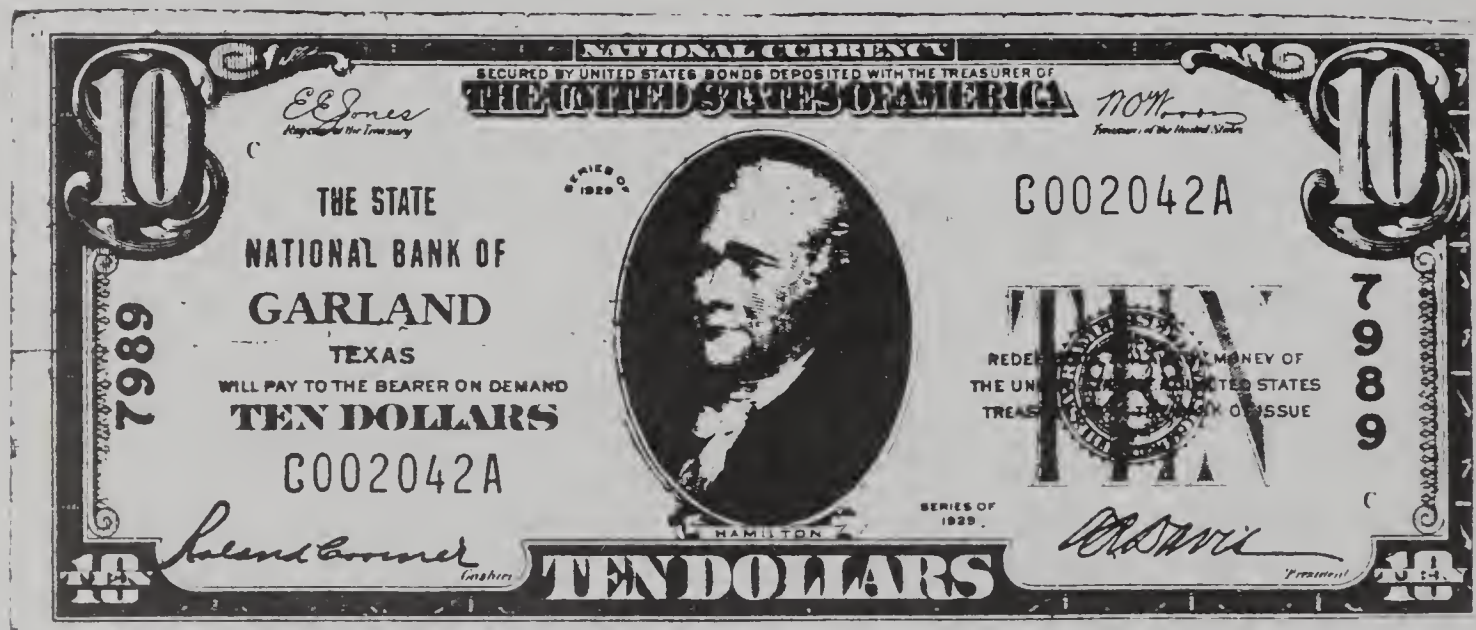

A.R. Davis also held several other positions. He was a Director of the Citizen's National Bank of Denison, Texas and one of the original Directors of Gulf Insurance Co. in Dallas. He helped establish Garland's City owned utilities. In 1937 he was appointed to the Board of Hospital Managers for Dallas County. He served twenty years, ten as Chairman. Parkland Memorial Hospital was built during his tenure. He was also a thirty-second degree Mason.

It was said that A.R. Davis had a warm personality. He also had a sense of humor. His moral standards and integrity were above reproach. He always attempted to shape his actions toward the betterment of the community. In business he was progressive but at the same time, sound and conservative in approaching new projects. He had an interesting lending policy at the bank. He felt that any customer, rich or poor, was entitled to the services of the bank. This included loans if they could and would repay them. He felt that most people fully intended to repay loans but sometimes found themselves unable to do so and that it was the banker's responsibility to see that the loan was repaid.

A.R. Davis died in 1967 at the age of 91. A.R. Davis Elementary School of the Garland Independent School District was named for him.

WEB PRESS FEDERAL RESERVE NOTES by Robert Thiel

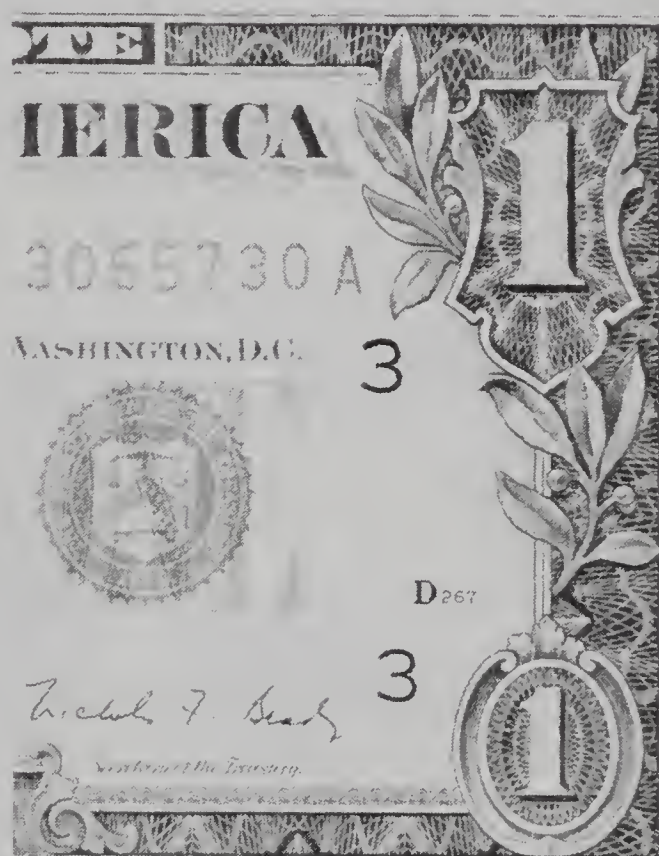

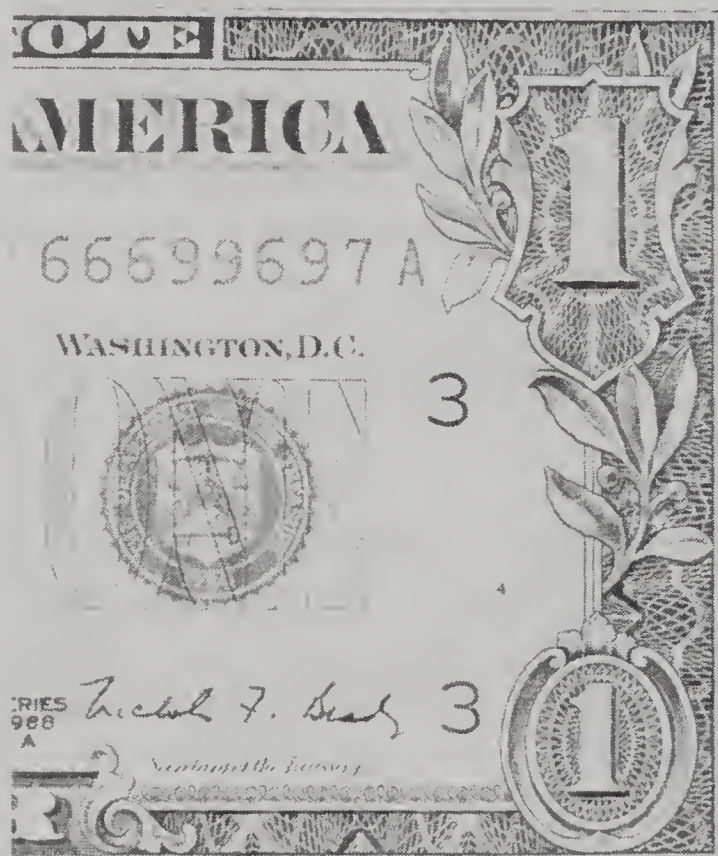

May, 1992 the Bureau of Engraving and Printing started test printing of state-of-the-art web press. The web press prints both sides, 96 notes on a continuous roll of paper. The notes printed on the web press can be identified by the different paper and face and back check numbers. Notes printed in 32 note sheets have a position letter in the upper left and lower right of each note. Also by the lower right letter is the face plate number. The back plate number is under the large E in ONE. Notes printed by the web press have a plate number on the face at the lower right. The back plate number is just to the right of IN GOD WE TRUST. There are no position letters. Paper, when new, seems stiff and a brighter white.

The notes have added a new interest in my collecting of Federal Reserve Notes, like when cope printing was first introduced. The BEP has not released any figures of where changes from sheet printing have been made. This has given me a challenge to find where these changes were made, sheet to web press back to sheet.

Here is a list of what I know at this time. Any new information would be very helpful.

CLUB NOTES: The Currency club of Chester County had it's first ever July meeting. Members were looking forward to the ANA Baltimore Show. A slightly warm Waco type 1 Texas National was displayed, charter #2189. Bill Quain gave a talk on United States of Mexico notes, 27 of 28 states printed them. The club was looking forward to the next meeting at Ray Waltz Golf Farm, no program, no auction, just food, fun and a 50/50. Interesting note in the club bulletin: there are 4,829,861,685 dollar bills in circulation.

MEMPHIS REPORT: by Bill Brandimore

Mike Crabb did it again...Memphis was the usual...~~GREAT~~. The weather was even a bit milder than the norm. John and Nancy Wilson, Al Vonk and Martin Delger and myself took a walk around after dinner one evening...down to Beale Street to see the tourists and into the Peabody Hotel to check the menu...it was a pleasant evening with a cool breeze.

I didn't get into auction action, although Alaskan Seal Skin money brought up to $7,000 a lot. The Smythe auction had very little in the way of Nationals or Fractional...my main interests; but there was a fair amount of Obsolete material on the block. (Next year's auction will be conducted by Currency Auctions of America...always strong on Nationals and very successful in their prices, with good promotional catalogs. If you want to sell some material, I can give an unpaid testimonial that they do a good job of presenting your material.)

Floor action was brisk and I didn't talk with anyone who was disappointed. I found several nice fractionals and three nationals, so I was pleased.

The exhibits were even more eye pleasing than in year's past. I was happy to escape with a third place award in the FCCB (Fractional Currency Collector's Board) competition. Len Glazer donates the awards each year. My plaque is wooden and shield shaped with an uncirculated 10 cent 3rd issue fractional note under plastic. First Place winner was Doug Hales and Milton Friedberg (of the Fractional Encyclopedia fame) won second place. Their awards contained 50 and 25 cent notes respectively. In addition, all the exhibitors received a nice plaque with an engraving of a 25 cent 3rd issue fractional note. ~~PMCM~~ member Martin Delger did his usual masterful job in lining up and supervising the exhibits.

Our ~~PMCM~~ meeting was held on Saturday the 19th and attracted 14 members: Bob Thiel, Bill Brandimore, George Conrad, L.D. Mitchell, Dave Harper (of ~~ENR~~), Frank Clark, Pat Barnes, Larry Falater, Doug Murray, Al Vonk, Michele Orzarno (of Coin World), Joseph Mikolajczyk and John & Nancy Wilson. The financial books are in order per Bob Thiel. We asked Doug Murray to serve as a member of the Board of Director's, filling the post vacated by the death of Max Brail, and hope to elect him and a slate of officers at the Fall Show in Dearborn. I gave a brief talk on a recent trip into the Porcupine Mountains on a back packing trip and we adjourned.

We gave Mike Harper of Bank Note Reporter a little blurb on PMCM in hopes of attracting new members. (It ran in the July BNR.) Coin World was represented by Michele Orzano, and we got some publicity in that newspaper, as well.

Larry Falater and I went through the Napoleon exhibit that occupied the ground floor of the Convention Hall...it was well worth the $11. The highlight for me was seeing the 50 stone 270 carat diamond necklace given by Napoleon to his wife on the birth of their son...plus other diamonds that composed the largest jewel collection assembled up to that time.
